PREFACE.

The new system, introduced in this issue of the American Newspaper Directory, for rating newspapers as to their circulation by a graduated scale indicated by letters is sufficiently explained in the "key," and will, it is hoped, work more entirely to the satisfaction of all persons interested, than that formerly adopted. In 1870, when it was first decided to give information on this subject, the editor applied to proprietors of newspapers for statements, and inserted before the figures so obtained the word "claims." After a time objections were urged against this word, and to avoid its use, publishers offered to prove reports, by affidavits and otherwise. Many, however, were satisfied with the word as used, and arguing that one claim was as good as another, set up pretensions which could not be substantiated. It became evident that if the book was to become an authority the "claimed" circulations would have to be excluded. Thenceforth, those newspapers whose proprietors offered proof had their circulation figures given positively, without any preliminary word; in all other cases the figures were followed by the word "estimated."

In the course of a year or two the word "estimated" became as objectionable as the other, and newspaper publishers frequently asked that it be omitted. To this request, the response was uniformly made that the word could only be omitted in those cases where an offer to prove correctness accompanied the circulation statement when given.

This position gave offence to many. It was a system introduced for the protection of honest publishers against their more unscrupulous neighbors. It seemed a good one when it was adopted. It doubtless answered an excellent purpose in its time, but it finally gave rise to so much dissatisfaction that it was abandoned.

A statement, in detail, of the number issued is now all that is required, and this may be made in any form which suits the convenience of the publisher furnishing it. If notoriously false, it is likely to be disregarded, and, in any event, is liable to receive the critical scrutiny of rivals capable of bringing to bear much positive knowledge on the subject.

The publishers of the Directory take this occasion to express thanks for the assistance rendered in hundreds of communications from newspaper publishers of the United States and Canada, who have taken pains to revise advance sheets, report suspensions, new establishments, and to correct reports which did injustice to neighbors—often rivals.

Since January, 1878, the work has been subject to a DAILY REVISION, and corrected editions have appeared, and will continue to appear, four times a year. Every publisher is specially requested to send in a statement by which the circulation ratings may be revised whenever the existing quotation is found to be unjust. Such statements always have the attention which their truthful import warrants.

The price of the book will hereafter be the same as in the years previous to 1878—FIVE DOLLARS.

TO PUBLISHERS OF NEWSPAPERS.

THIS DIRECTORY is reprinted every three months. The work upon its revision proceeds all the time. Advertisers, Publishers and the general public are besought to lend their aid by calling attention to any shortcomings.

FREE MATTER.—The name of a periodical, day of issue, politics or general character, form, size, subscription price per year, year of establishment, editors' and publishers' names, and its circulation, are all inserted without charge. From Publishers of Newspapers who furnish information upon which the report of circulation may be based, a memorandum is asked of the issues for each number of the paper for the three preceding months. Persons sending such reports are desired to be definite and exact as to dates and figures and to avoid giving totals and averages.

ITALIC MATTER.—Additional matter, following the above, and distinguished from it by being set in italic type, is paid for by the publisher of the newspaper at twenty-five cents a line each Quarterly issue, or one dollar a line per year. The publishers of the DIRECTORY assume no responsibility for any statements made in italic type, every publisher of a newspaper being allowed to print in that manner anything for which he is willing to pay the price demanded. An order for the insertion of one or two lines is as readily received as one for fifty or one hundred. When not otherwise specified upon the order all italic matter is received on the understanding that it may be continued in subsequent editions, "till forbid," the publishers of the DIRECTORY having the option to draw at sight for payment, or to charge to account as cash.

NEWSPAPER BUILDINGS.—Small engravings of newspaper buildings, not exceeding one inch in length or breadth, will be inserted for five dollars a year, subject to continuance as set forth above. They can be ordered of Crosscup & West, Wood Engravers, 702 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, their price being from four to eight dollars, according to the amount of labor required.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—Displayed Advertisements will be inserted in forthcoming editions at the following CASH PRICES:

	3 months.	6 months.	1 year.
One Page,	$50 00	$75 00	$100 00
1-2 Page,	$30 00	$45 00	$ 60 00
1-3 Page,	$25 00	$37 50	$ 50 00
1-4 Page,	$20 00	$30 00	$ 40 00

ADDRESS COMMUNICATIONS TO

EDITOR OF AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY,

No. 10 SPRUCE ST. (PRINTING HOUSE SQUARE), NEW YORK.

COMMENDATIONS.

The object of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is not very different from that of the well-known mercantile agencies which exist in all our leading cities. The latter keep their subscribers informed of the character, habits, reputation, business ability, and financial strength of the persons with whom they are likely to have business transactions, enabling them thereby to regulate those transactions as to secure probably profitable dealings, or to avoid such as will be likely to result in ultimate annoyance or loss.

The DIRECTORY conveys the best obtainable information concerning the character and value of newspapers. Its patrons are men who expend money in advertising (a large and important class), and it is from them that the publishers of the DIRECTORY, in their capacity of Advertising Agents, derive their profit and support.

As the most important portion of the information supplied by a mercantile agency consists of a report of the financial strength of the person about whom information is asked, so is the circulation of a newspaper generally considered the point upon which information will be of most value to the advertiser.

The greatest possible care is taken to make the DIRECTORY reports correct. Every publisher is applied to systematically. All information is taken in a form which excludes any but definite statements; while every effort is made to protect honest publishers against such as would resort to lying or perjured reports to gain an unfair advantage.

From Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Druggists, 360 Washington Street.

BOSTON, MAY 7, 1877.

It is to the judicious advertiser what the dispensary is to the careful druggist—an authority, without which it would be impossible to avoid serious mistakes. I anticipate the day when every newspaper worthy of advertising patronage will truthfully state its circulation, either in the Directory or at the head of its columns; but wherever stated, it will be due, in nearly every case, to the original and persistent efforts of Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co.; and as character and circulation determine the value of a medium, advertisers should not forget this important service you have rendered them.

Respectfully,

GEO. R. WHITE.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, May 5, 1877.

Gentlemen:—The annual production of such a Directory bespeaks an enterprise and a vigor of administration peculiarly your own. One knows not whether more to admire at the intelligent perception which realizes the utility to yourselves of such a publication, or the vast business which makes it possible. The editor, the printer, and the binder, have combined in performing each his part with singular zeal and success, showing that if you choose to be a publisher you might be as peerless as in the vocation you have adopted, and indeed, may be fairly said to have invented. Your friend and servant, JOHN B. MINOR.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 8, 1877.

I have carefully examined its contents, and I would say, not to flatter, but simply as a matter of fact, that you have made valuable improvement in the way of giving information, especially in regard to location and population of the leading towns and cities; while the type, paper, and binding, in short, everything pertaining to the book, rings of good, honest material, reflecting that tone and character upon its authors, which their established and well-earned reputation would lead one to expect of them.

DR. D. KENNEDY.

From S. S. Scranton & Co., Book Publishers, No. 281 Asylum Street.

HARTFORD, CONN., May 8, 1877.

In the quality of the materials, its beautiful typography, and the entire make-up and arrangement of the work, we regard it as a model worthy of imitation and typical of the enterprise which characterizes your house. We have made frequent and valuable use of former editions of your Directory, and find the present one full of information of practical benefit to us in our business.

Office of I. S. Johnson & Co., Proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

BANGOR, MAINE, May 7, 1877.

We bear witness to the great value and importance of the work to all people who have business with or want to know anything about newspapers. We notice many important improvements in this book over those previously issued by you, and believe that it is about as near perfect as such a work can be made.

Your friends, I. S. JOHNSON & Co.

PITTSBURGH, May 8, 1877.

Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York :

Gentlemen—We are in receipt of your valuable Newspaper Directory for 1877, and must say in the manner of compiling we look upon this edition the best you have issued, and an indispensable work for all but local advertisers. Most truly yours, HOSTETTER & SMITH.

From Seth W. Fowle & Sons, Proprietors of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, Peruvian Syrup, &c.

We have subscribed for the work from its first issue, and we cannot get along without it. We consider it the most complete work of the kind published, and the descriptions of cities and towns in the present volume add much to its value.

From the Mercantile Agency, Dun, Barlow & Co., 335 Broadway.

NEW YORK, May 3, 1877.

Messrs Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York City :

Dear Sirs,—It is a most creditable book, and one which we prize highly. You are certain of any business we have.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 4, 1877.

Although we do our advertising through you, there is scarcely a day that we do not want to refer to it in a business transaction.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 7, 1877.

Invaluable.

R. V. PIERCE.

CLAVERACK COLLEGE AND HUDSON RIVER INSTITUTE, CLAVERACK, N. Y., May 10, 1877.

We value it very highly. We have looked about a good deal among advertising agencies, and feel satisfied that we are best served by your firm. It is about 15 years, we think, since we made our first order (you know), and it is our judgment that we have ordered every year during that period. We have learned to like you especially for your advice to advertise judiciously.

Yours truly,

ALONZO FLACK.

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS, 1876.

The Rowell Directory is full of interesting facts down to minor details regarding the periodicals of the country.—Hartford (Conn.) Courant, May 13, 1876. — The publishers in affording the public such a complete work are certainly deserving of commendation.—Albany (N. Y.) Argus, May 9, 1876. — The advertising world is well acquainted with the usefulness of this manual; and it maintains its reputation for accuracy.—N. Y. Scientific American, June 6, 1876. — While in some cases the figures may be too low and in others too high, it is generally conceded that they are in the main correct.—Washington (D. C.) Evening Star, May 13, 1876. — The immense amount of labor necessary to the production of this guide-book and encyclopedia of newspaperdom, and the great care visible in its manipulations, cannot be too highly compensated or commended.—Golden Mean, Canfield, Ohio, June 1, 1876. — The necessity for a guide-book like Geo. P. Rowell & Co's AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY has become more evident, until it is now regarded as well nigh indispensable.—Utica Herald, May 12, 1876. — It is a great monument of a great business, but it is much more, as it is an aid to the business of the country, afforded by no other medium of information with which we are acquainted. It enables business men to put themselves in communication with the channels of publicity in all parts of the country. It enables the student of politics to arrive at the answers to many enquiries entering remote sections. It enables the student of any class to obtain at once the names and comparative influence of the current organs of popular opinion. It is, therefore, not alone in the libraries of writers and newspaper men that it ought to be found, though it is so useful to us that it seems to have been compiled for us alone.—Catholic Review, New York City, Dec. 23, 1876. — The task of G. P. Rowell & Co., is by no means one to be lightly undertaken. We are satisfied, however, that it has been performed with a conscientious thoroughness, ability and success that deserve high praise, and ensure the success of the "Directory"—for it has no competitor, and it is an indispensable source of information for all who seek to know the value of advertising in particular journals. Year by year the "Directory" becomes more and more trustworthy, as added experience enables Rowell & Co., to perfect the details of their work.—New York Evening Mail, December 19, 1876.

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS, 1877.

This book is invaluable to business men who do extensive advertising. Some of our largest advertising concerns in Boston say they could not get along without this Directory; it gives them immense assistance. The enterprise of Rowell & Co., is commendable, and shows to what a wonderful extent the advertising business has developed in the United States.—Boston Pilot, May 12, 1877.

The value of a publication of this nature consists in accuracy and close attention to all the necessary details. The volume before us fulfills all the requisite conditions, and no desirable particulars appear to have been omitted.—New York Daily Bulletin, May 8, 1877.

The book gives in a well arranged and methodical form about all the information regarding newspapers that anybody would desire to know. The information, so desirable to advertisers respecting the circulation of different papers, is more accurate than can usually be obtained.—Rochester (N. Y.) Daily Union and Advertiser, May 22, 1877.

It is the best that has ever been published.—Independence (Kansas) Daily Courier, May 18.

The Directory is evidently the result of a vast amount of work.—Springvale (Me.) Reporter, May 19, 1877.

The present issue is an improvement upon its predecessors, and will prove a valuable book of reference to a large circle of business men.—Boston Transcript, May 8, 1877.

This work has evidently been prepared with great care.—Boston Journal, May 5, 1877.

The publishers of this book have spared neither pains or expense in their endeavors to procure information in regard to the newspapers of the country, and they have succeeded in making the book one that, as a reference to publications, is unsurpassed, either to advertisers or others desiring information in regard to newspapers.—Woodhull (Illinois) Enterprise, May 25, 1877.

A new feature of this work, and one that will prove to be of great value, is a description of each town and city in which these papers are published. This will give advertisers a chance to determine what localities are most advantageous for them to reach. For instance, parties wishing to advertise machinery, are enabled to see from this work where such machinery is most extensively used, and the same is true of all other classes of advertisements.—Tonawanda (N. Y.) Index, May 24, 1877.

Of course the volume is invaluable to advertisers.—Scientific American, N. Y., May 26, 1877.

The largest and most complete work of the kind yet published, and gives in a well arranged and methodical form all the information regarding newspapers that anybody would desire to know.—Canastota (N. Y.) Herald, May 18, 1877.

COMMENDATIONS.

A new feature of much interest appears in this volume, a concise description of the town in which each paper is published. This idea of the geographical position of a town or city and the general occupations of its people is really of moment in advertising. Geo. P. Rowell & Co. are universally known and honored as an advertising house of long experience, uprightness, and extended and finely systematized facilities.—Brockton (Mass.) Weekly Advance, May 19, 1877.

The best practical review and illustration of the journalism of the country issued.—Springfield (Mass.) Daily Republican, May 18, 1877.

The book is a credit to the publishers.—Morning Express, Albany, N. Y., May 17, 1877.

By the aid of one of these Directories an advertiser may send advertisements to the press of any section of the country, or if the business he desires to advertise be a special one, such as to interest solely persons engaged in one branch of business, by referring to the description of towns, etc., he will be able to ascertain what communities are constituted of the class of persons he desires to reach.—Richmond Co. Sentinel, New Brighton, N. Y., May 16, 1877.

To all who would study the periodical press, and especially all who propose to advertise to any considerable extent, such a Directory is invaluable, and we know of nothing else in the same line that can compare with it in completeness.—Congregationalist, Boston, Mass., May 9, 1877.

It is a magnificent work and reflects credit on the publishers and on the newspaper fraternity of the United States.—Anti-Monopolist, Saint Paul, Minnesota, May 24, 1877.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co. deserve the best thanks of the advertising community for their efforts to prevent advertisers from being imposed on by unscrupulous publishers. Every honest publisher will also thank them for the aid they have afforded them in maintaining their competition for business by fair means, against the fraudulent practices of dishonest rivals. Messrs. Rowell & Co., alone of Newspaper Directory publishers, have had the courage to undertake the task of discriminating among the statements of newspapers, and to face the hostility which such a course was sure to excite among those who profited by misrepresentation. Notwithstanding the "crushing" articles that from time to time have been hurled at them, sometimes by parties who ought to have known better, they have persevered in their course, and they have had their reward. Their publication has taken the first place as the standard authority among American Newspaper Directories, and a reference book for every large advertiser and advertising agency in this country.—Jersey City Journal, May 22, 1877.

It is a valuable work of reference and should be in the hands of every business man. It is a descriptive geography of every town in the Union where a newspaper is published, and in the East, especially among extensive advertisers, it is considered invaluable. In this connection we deem it but just to add that we have had business dealings with the publishers, Geo. P. Rowell & Co., running through eleven years, and have always found them honest and straightforward, and during that time there has not been a dispute or difference between us.—Springfield (Mo.) Leader, May 24, 1877.

There is one new feature in this work which calls for special attention—the description of towns in which the newspapers are published. This will enable advertisers not only to form an opinion of the papers, but will also give them an idea of the city and surrounding country—all of which are very important facts to the shrewd advertiser. Rowell & Co. have a national reputation—they are not only well known to the newspapers of the country, but are regarded as representative advertising agents by the people everywhere. Their business is immense, and how they can possibly transact it all in a manner that gives satisfaction to the advertiser, to the publisher, and to themselves is a marvel.—Daily Times, Leavenworth, Kan., May 22, 1877.

This Directory is very complete; we find it fair and accurate; and it well mirrors one of the great elements of modern civilization. The volume has value for reference, and for large advertisers is indispensable.—Morning Herald, Utica, N. Y., June 1, 1877.

Messrs. Rowell & Co., have long stood at the head of the advertising agency business, and although their Directories in the past have been very full and complete, we regard the issue for 1877 superior to any ever sent out by them, or anyone else, in several particulars.—Herald, Elizabeth, Pa., June 1, 1877.

NEWSPAPER OPINIONS, 1878.

We judge that this book is as near accurate in its statements of papers, their circulation, etc., as it is possible to get. We have done business with Rowell & Co. a good many years, and we believe that they mean to do justice by their customers and publishers.—Topeka Commonwealth, Jan. 30, 1878.

This edition is the best and most complete work of its specialty the world has ever seen.—West Meriden Recorder, Jan. 30, 1878.

Those who contemplate advertising to any extent, however small, cannot afford to be without this book. Messrs. Rowell & Co's facilities are unequalled by any.—Rock Island Ill.) Argus, Jan. 20, 1878.

Is cordially endorsed by the leading advertisers, not only of the United States, but of the world.—Leavenworth (Kan.) Times, Jan. 30, 1878.

It is a work that will be found most convenient by publishers, and its value to general advertisers can hardly be overestimated.—Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel, Jan. 29, 1878.

Is invaluable to all having to do with newspaper work.—Boston Traveler, Jan. 20, 1878.

It is characterized by the typographical neatness and accuracy, and evidence of conscientious labor, which distinguish the publications of this firm.—Nation, Feb. 7, 1878.

EXPLANATIONS.

The population is from census of 1870, or recent estimate of resident postmasters or publishers—the latter case indicated by a dagger—c. h. stands for court house, county seat—m. for miles—pop. for population—r. for river, and Rd. for railroad.

The circulation has been omitted in cases where a description of the publications did not appear in the last edition of the DIRECTORY, and in some other cases for special reasons.

Where no advertisements are taken for a publication, the matter of circulation, being unimportant, has been omitted, and the fact stated thus: “Does not insert advertisements.”

Where publications are bought and circulated by persons and firms that advertise therein by means of descriptive articles in the reading columns, or devoted to the (almost) exclusive advertising of any particular person or firm, or to the advertising of any certain idea, or established solely as advertising schemes, embracing a class with circulations almost entirely gratuitous, they are termed “advertising sheets,” and no circulation given †† Means that the Editor of the DIRECTORY at the time of going to press had no certain evidence that the paper so marked had suspended publication, but he was unable to secure any late issue, therefore no particulars are given.

Where italic matter follows the description of a publication, it is by order of the publisher, and is paid for as an advertisement.

The publishers of the DIRECTORY assume no responsibility for any statements made in italic type, every publisher of a newspaper being allowed to print in that manner anything for which he is willing to pay the price demanded, viz.: twenty-five cents a line.

AMERICAN; every evening except Sunday, and WEEKLY, Fridays; independent-republican; daily four pages, weekly eight pages; size—daily 27x38, weekly 32x46; subscription—daily $6, weekly $2; established—daily 1866, weekly 1844; American Printing Co., editors and publishers; circulation—daily J 1, weekly I 1. Both the Daily and Weekly American circulates largely up and down the "Naugatuck Valley," one of the richest sections in the State, having the largest actual circulation in Western Connecticut. Its weekly edition has, with one exception, the largest circulation in New Haven County, not excepting New Haven. Advertisers who have given it a trial consider it one of the best paying mediums in the State and the best in Western Connecticut. Waterbury manufactories, even during the past dull, discouraging times, have, without exception, paid regular dividends, which is due to the fact that the brass interests have not suffered correspondingly with those of other classes. Three-fourths of all brass and brass goods manufactured in the United States are made in Waterbury, it being the largest brass manufacturing city in the world. It is a self-evident fact that it is not always those papers whose issue is the largest that are the best paying advertising mediums, but those that circulate where there is the most money. The weekly edition has a bona fide circulation of 2,448 copies, and is a valuable advertising sheet, going into the best families and having an established reputation of over thirty-four years for enterprise and character, which causes its columns to be carefully read and its advertisements effective.

They also assume charge of the placing of advertising contracts, in cases where the advertiser entrusts the business to their management.

What is Done with the Newspapers?

Messrs Geo. P. Rowell & Co. receive nearly one hundred and fifty thousand newspapers every three months, more than seventeen hundred every day. On occasions in the winter, when the snows interfere with the regular running of the mails, as soon as the blockade is removed it not unfrequently happens that as many as twenty-five bushels come in of a single morning, counting possibly as many as ten thousand papers in one mail delivery.

What becomes of all the papers? What do you do with them? are questions which are often asked. The papers come from every quarter, and are assorted throughout the day and night by the Post-office employees. Those addressed to Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau are thrown into large mail bags, arranged out, uniformly folded and arranged by States, after which the various piles are handed over to those who have in charge the business of examining each separate paper to make sure that advertisements ordered from the Agency are inserted according to specifications of contract.

on a rack or frame made to support them, with the mouth held open, and these, when filled, are tied at the top and set aside to wait until called for. The bags are brought to the office each morning, after which the papers are taken out and heaped upon a table. Then the wrappers are taken off and the papers smoothed

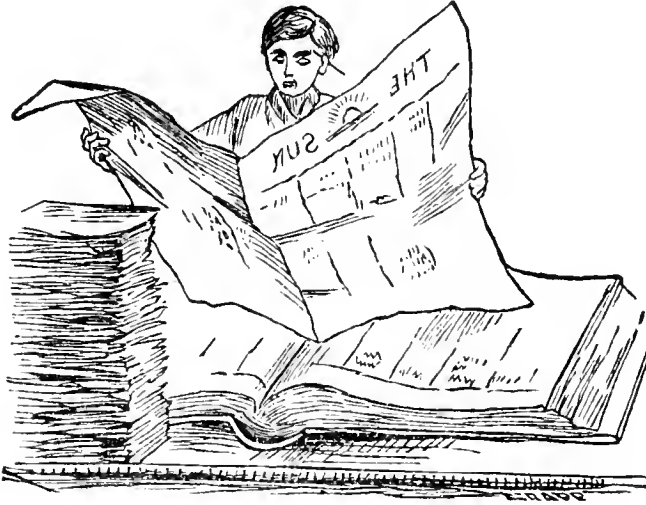

The country is divided into sections and apportioned out. One person attends to papers issued in the city of New York; another checks those in States near by one has Canada, one the South, and another the Territories and Pacific Coast.

With his book spread open before him the work of examination and checking proceeds.

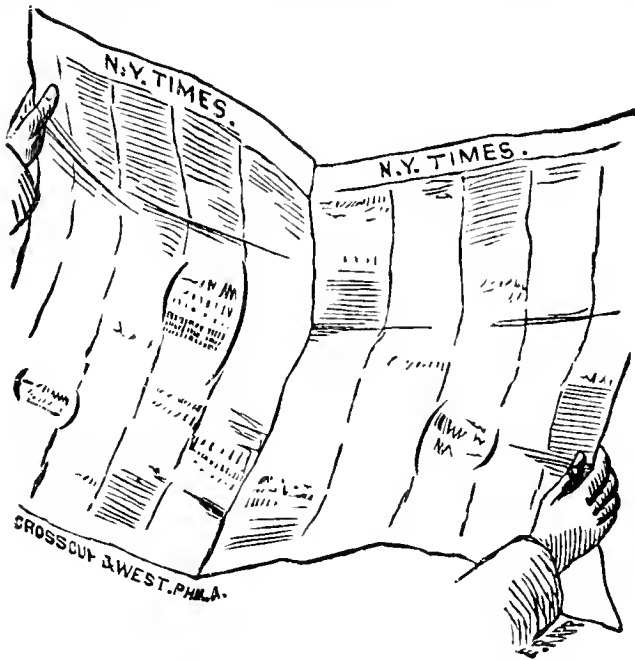

Every paper in which an advertisement is running is opened out and the advertisements, one or more, are marked with a crayon so as to be easily found or seen at a glance when the advertiser comes to make his examination before paying his bill.

The checking books are arranged to show the actual number of insertions which every advertisement is to receive. Special marks are used to designate special things, and the checking clerk, guided by instructions, produces a page which will show the advertiser at a glance whether his insertions have been truly and correctly rendered, or otherwise.

By the accompanying diagram the plan is made plain, as in use for a weekly paper. The name of the advertiser, the space, position, style, and length of time an advertisement that, but to GET THE PAPER and keep files complete.

If an advertisement is materially wrong, is out of position, has important typographical errors, or for any reason is not what the advertiser is entitled to expect, notice is dispatched to the publisher at once, and the error is made good by another insertion or a reduction from the bill.

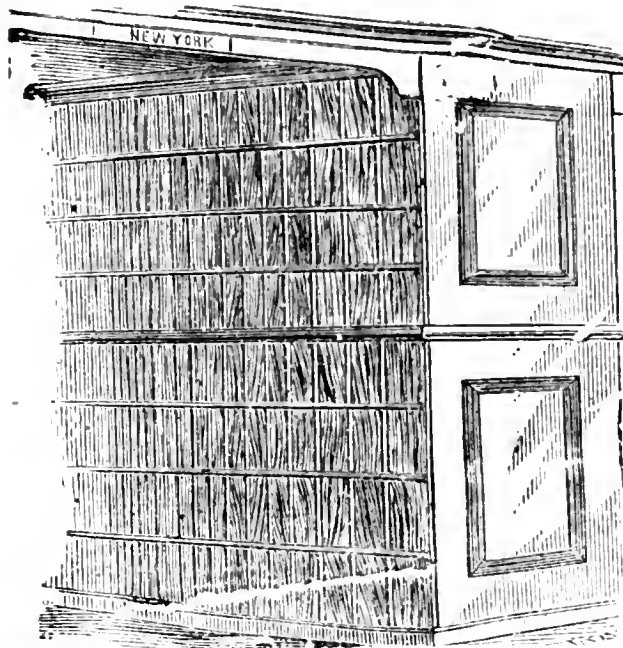

This system is carried to great perfection. The checking books are kept permanently for inspection by advertisers. The papers themselves are kept three months from date of issue, after that time the Agency does not guarantee to exhibit them.

alphabetically by States, the name of each State being designated on the cases and again over the entrance to each separate gallery.

A stranger is thus enabled to search out the depository for his own local paper, or any other that he may desire to see, with as much readiness as he finds a word in a dictionary or a name in a directory.

These galleries being arranged one story above another and as compactly as possible, occupying portions of the same rooms where all the work upon the papers is performed, leave nothing to be desired in the way of convenience.

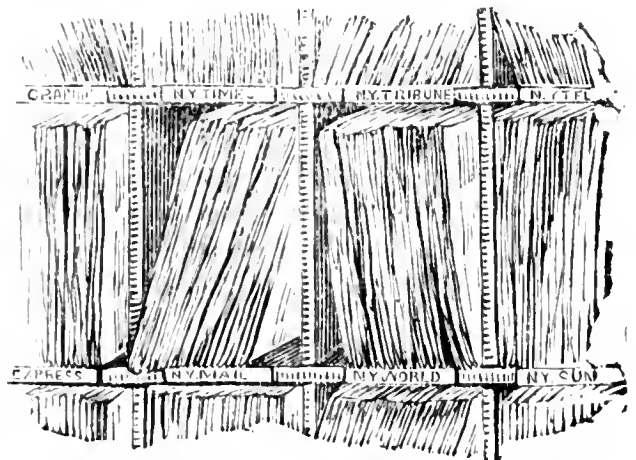

for themselves what each paper looks like, and judge what style of advertising will be most effective in each.

When the papers have accumulated until their allotted spaces assume a crowded appearance, then comes the final solution of the problem of "What do you do with them?" Boys go through the galleries, extract the superfluous papers from each of the spaces (being careful to leave a complete file for at least three months), throw them into one great heap; after which a dealer in paper stock comes and carts them all away, and in another month they may be found in the store of the paper dealer, made into new bundles, upon which may again be printed other papers to repeat the same round of experiences.

After the examination and marking, the paper is again folded, and receives a heavy mark on its upper right hand corner to indicate that it has passed through the requisite examination, and is ready to be placed upon file. It is then taken and placed in the space accorded to it. Every weekly paper is assigned a pigeon-hole, 8 inches by 10½ and one foot deep, while to a daily is accorded three such. These spaces are all designated by a label, having printed upon it the name of the paper to which the space is accorded.

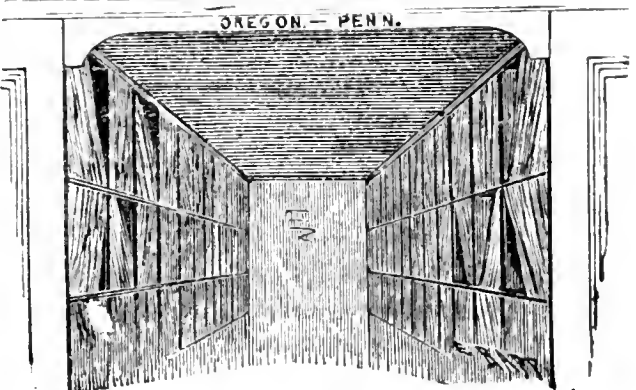

These being placed in tiers or cases, back to back, and set up, form galleries, so as to permit of the whole being arranged

An advertiser whose rule it is to pay no bills until he sees all the papers can here be accommodated, and a business amounting to $20,000 per annum in cheap country papers can be looked after (every copy of every paper examined) by the advertiser, or his representative, who will devote three days' time to the examination four times a year.

The time required for examining papers is mainly used in looking after the advertisement which is not there. This work has all been done beforehand, and each advertisement marked plainly with a black crayon. If it is so marked the advertiser takes in its appearance, style, position, everything in an instant, and if it is not marked he need go no farther; it is not there, and he is entitled to one other insertion or an allowance.

One advantage of complete files, so conveniently arranged, consists in being able to produce for advertisers samples of all the papers in which they wish to insert their announcements, that they may see

J. R. HAWLEY, President.

There were eight thousand one hundred and twenty-nine newspapers published regularly in the United States according to the American Newspaper Directory for the centennial year 1876.

The combined issues of all the other nations of the earth did not then, nor do they now equal that number. Application was made to Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., to make an exhibition of the American Press by Gen'l Jos. R. Hawley, President of the United States Centennial Commission, in the following letter:

GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York City.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17th, 1875.

Gentlemen:—Some time ago I made a memorandum that I must write you concerning an exhibit of the American newspaper, that wonderful feature in American civilization. It seems to me that an exhibit of its progress during the century and its present condition would be exceedingly interesting. Could every exiting American periodical from semi-annual down to daily be shown? How and where? Have you any scheme in mind? Can you submit a plan? Can you come here and talk it over? Respectfully yours,

J. R. HAWLEY, President U. S. C. C.

An exhibition of a sample copy of each of all these thousands of periodicals would hardly convey an adequate idea of the importance of journalism, yet it would do something towards that end; and believing that it would not be practical to attempt more, Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., in response to Gen'l Hawley's letter made the necessary formal application for an assignment of space in the Main Building, which was met by the following suggestion from the Director-General, Mr. A. T. Goshorn :

GEO. P. ROWELL, ESQ.,

Dear Sir:—Your application for space in the International Exhibition for a display of ample copies of every periodical in the United States has been placed before me for consideration. It has been suggested that such an exhibition would be very much more attractive and interesting if an outside pavilion were provided for that purpose. * * * * I most cordially commend this suggestion to you, with the hope that the newspaper interest of the country will join in providing such a pavilion, which would be a distinctive feature of the Exhibition. * * * * Yours very respectfully,

A. T. GOSHORN, Director-General.

About this time Messrs. Rowell & Co., received a communication from a well known printer, (Peter C. Baker, Esq., of New York), who has devoted much time to the interests of the craft. He writes as follows:

"The pamphlet, job and ornamental printers will, I believe, very generally present the best specimens of their work; and many of these beautiful productions of typographical skill will show what rapid advances the printer is making to place himself by the side of the artist and engraver.

"But what is the Newspaper and Periodical Press doing to show that in this department especially our country surpasses all other nations of the world? I have not yet learned that any positive arrangements have been made to give tangible evidence of the immensity of the newspaper and periodical interests of our country, and therefore I very respectfully and earnestly suggest that immediate steps be taken to take this important matter in charge, and prepare a plan by which a copy of every newspaper and periodical published in the United States be collected and shown at the Centennial. No feature of the exhibition would be more effective than this to show the world the general intelligence of our people, and make plain the secret of the success of our republican experiment."

Other communications of a kindred tenor came from unexpected sources, and application to the publishers of a few of the great newspapers of the country revealed such a readiness to aid the enterprise that plans were made and adopted in accordance with the suggestion of the Director-General, and in response to the written promise given to the Centennial Commission in January, 1876, that the exhibition would be made, the President of the Commission wrote:

GEO. P. ROWELL, ESQ., 41 Park Row,

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29, 1876.

Dear Sir:—I am right glad you are going ahead with your work. It will be as distinctive and interesting an American exhibit as we shall have on the grounds. * * * *

Yours truly,

J. R. HAWLEY.

It was decided to attempt a much more comprehensive display than had first been thought of. Instead of a sample copy of a paper, every publisher was to be allowed to exhibit a file for several weeks or months, and every paper should be made instantly accessible, and the exhibition thus serve the additional purpose of a reading room and an exchange for newspaper men.

A prominent position was assigned the Newspaper Pavilion by Director-General Goshorn on Fountain Avenue.

The following description first appeared in the New York Sun of February 14, 1876:

"The plan of exhibition is an alphabetical arrangement of partial files of each newspaper or periodical in such a manner as makes them instantly accessible, the space devoted to each bearing a label with the name of the publication printed thereon, and further designated by a number, by means of which a stranger, upon reference to his catalogue, is able at once to approach the section of the building where the particular journal which he desires to examine or refer to may be found.

"The cases containing these files form alcoves similar to those in public libraries for the arrangement of books, these alcoves forming long tiers, one on each side of the building, throughout its entire length, a portion of the space between being reserved for the accommodation of attendants, leaving a passage-way for the public eighteen feet in width, extending from one end of the structure to the other.

"The second story, approached by four flights of stairs, is devoted to reading rooms for the accommodation more especially of newspaper men, and supplied with conveniences for correspondents."

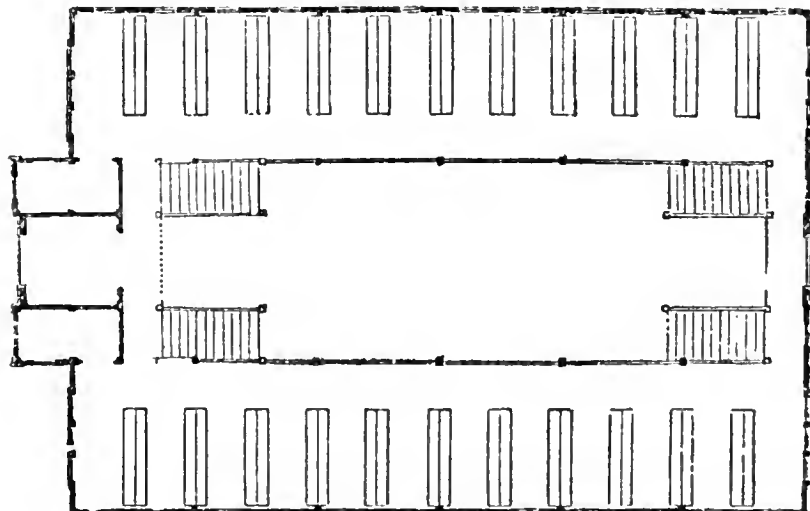

A better impression of the interior architecture may be obtained from the following written after an examination of the plans by the accomplished correspondent of the New York Times, in its issue of February 20th:

"The building is of timber and very neat. It has a length of sixty-seven feet with a width of forty-six feet, and a total height of thirty-three feet. From the exterior it appears to be in two stories, but the centre of the building is only one story, and is a very fine chamber, with ample light and space. The whole is arranged with that precision and mastery over details which have gained for Mr Rowell his celebrity as a business man. The alcoves are fairly lighted by windows which occupy the entire space between them, so that there is no difficulty in obtaining the wished-for file if the directions furnished are followed. The height of the side chambers where these alcoves are placed is eight feet, and over them are the writing galleries, where numerous desks are placed. Nothing can be simpler or more efficacious than this system, which, undoubtedly, is the very best that could have been devised. The galleries are lighted by rows of windows corresponding to those in the alcoves below, and by the large transom windows at each end. In the facade this window is set back from the gable roof about five feet, and a very effective ornamentation of radiating, incised planking is introduced, which relieves very pleasantly the simplicity of the structure. The interior is perfectly ventilated by a large lantern roof, and therefore the building deserves the praise of being thoroughly lighted, thoroughly ventilated, and of being admirably arranged for the desired purpose."

CENTENNIAL NEWSPAPER EXHIBITION.

SECOND FLOOR—READING ROOM.

How the project was carried out is set forth at length in a letter from the Centennial to a celebrated English journal, which is printed below.

From the "London Times," July 25, 1876.

[From Our Special Correspondent.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.

I have frequently had occasion to notice the big way in which Americans do things, and I do not know that it would be easy to find an apter illustration of this than that furnished by the "Centennial Newspaper Building," in the Exhibition grounds. Here you may see any one, or, if you like, all of the "8,129 newspapers, published regularly in the United States." In England a man thinks it cheap if he is given his choice of a few score of newspapers for a penny; and as our penny is here practically represented, as a rule, by a five-cent or even a ten-cent piece (the smallest shoeblack, for instance, expects ten cents (5d.) for shining your boots), a man could scarcely grumble if asked, say a quarter of a dollar, or one shilling, for the run of the 8,000 papers. Need it be said that in the Centennial Building he can see them one and all for nothing? He is not only permitted as a favor to see them, but he is invited, nay pressed, to confer the favor of entering the building and calling for what paper he likes. As he passes the entrance his eye is caught by some such kindly and courteous invitation as "Come in and see a paper from your home." "Write your name in the register, give your card to the superintendent, and make yourself at home." The home into which he is thus cordially welcomed is, moreover a very pleasant one. Without any pretensions to imposing architectural effect, it is simple, elegant, and neat. It is admirably lighted and ventilated by long rows of windows and a large lantern roof. Open on all sides, it catches every breath of air that ventures in this weather to stir out, and on one side the air is cooled by passing over the lake, on the border of which the building is pleasantly situated. It is, in fact, altogether about as cool and agreeable a place—quite apart from its literary attractions—as a visitor to the exhibition could wish to be offered a chair in. He may at first wonder how among 8,000 papers, among them such mighty sheets as the New York Herald, he is to get at the small, loved print of his home, thousands of miles away, it may be, over the Rocky Mountains. But the management is so simple that by consulting the catalogue any one can at once find any paper he wants. They are pigeon-holed on shelves in the alphabetical order of their States or Territories and their towns, the names of which are clearly labeled on the shelves. Thus the newspapers of Abbeville, in Alabama, would be found on the first shelf, and those of Laramie City, in Wyoming, on the last; but anybody in difficulties has only to apply to one of the eight superintendents, who, “all pineapples of politeness,” are ready to execute his orders as if they bodily belonged to him. If he would like to take notes or write, he has, in two galleries which run round the upper part of the building, his choice of some thirty desks with pen, ink, and paper, all provided, of course, gratis; or if he has ladies with him, or friends with whom he wants to have a perfectly private chat, there are at his disposal two or three private rooms comfortably fitted up. The visitor is, in fact, so spoiled, that before he has been in the building five minutes, he begins to feel himself injured because he cannot order at the usual prices of the establishment an iced “cocktail” and a bath.

It will not, I hope, detract from the merits of this pleasant home and refuge for the warm and weary readers of newspapers to mention that it is an advertisement, since no attempt is made to disguise the fact.

But the proprietors of the Centennial Newspaper Building are avowedly advertising agents—the largest, I believe, in all America—Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York. Their enterprise will cost altogether about $20,000, or £4,000, including the building and the expenses of “running” it for six months. How much comes out their pockets I cannot say, as they have been largely subsidized by some of the leading American papers. But they have the management of the enterprise, and will naturally get the lion’s share of the glory. It will certainly make their names known all over America, in corners which it may never have reached before. For the Americans are newspaper readers to a man—almost to a child; nor indeed does one need to be an American to appreciate the opportunity of resting in a comfortable room, in order to read the latest news from one’s home. I have seen quite young children in the building coming their papers as steadily and attentively as any of the adult voters around them. It is possible, I admit, that they were reading one of the newspapers for children, of which a large number are published in America. The 8,000 and odd American newspapers are declared to exceed “the combined issues of all the other nations of the earth.” One is somewhat surprised to find that of this number no less than 6,235, or more than three-fourths, are weekly. Some of them belong to classes to which in England the word “newspaper” would scarcely be applied, and to which even Webster’s definition of a newspaper as a “sheet of paper printed and distributed at short intervals for conveying intelligence of passing events,” would not permit it to be applied. Such are the semi-monthly publications; the monthly and even the quarterly.

[FROM “LA TYPOLOGIE-TUCKER,” PARIS, FRANCE, JULY, 1876.]

In this democratic country great importance is attached to its periodical publications. To exhibit them there has been erected a veritable palace which is not one of the least of the curiosities of the great exhibition, and which is a perfect Pantheon of the American press. It is under the management of Messrs. Rowell & Co.—a large New York advertising agency. It would be well if this example were followed by us at our next International Exposition in 1878; not solely in an historical and general point of view, but as a study of comparative typography. We think this idea merits further consideration.

[FROM THE “GACETA INTERNACIONAL,” BRUSSELS, BELGIUM, JULY 16, 1876.]

The Newspaper Pavilion, says our letter, is to-day the refuge of all newspaper men. This Pavilion is in charge of Mr. Geo. P. Rowell, who enjoys the reputation of being the most extensive Advertising Agent in the United States. By good management and with much labor this gentleman succeeded in placing on file all the publications in the American Union.

Mr. Rowell has accomplished the very difficult task of making the exhibition what it should be, everything being in excellent taste. One here finds a perfect reading room, without a single object to distract his attention; and when the immense number of publications daily received here are beheld, it seems almost incredible that the work can be done in such a quiet, systematic manner.

There are about a dozen employees in the building, and anyone who visits the Pavilion, be he foreigner or American, will meet with every possible attention; and, what is still more rare, will find that intelligent men are employed who speak all the principal European languages, and that it is not necessary to understand English in order to acquire all desirable information.

[From a Hungarian Newspaper.]

If a Hungarian editor were to enter the "Newspaper Pavillion of Rowell" while I am writing these lines he would certainly envy my fate. My desk is placed in a pleasant bay-window on the second floor, whence I have a magnificent view over the romantic lake of the Exhibition, in the centre of which the crystal water rises in 260 spouts, sparkling and glistening in the warm sun, and forming a gigantic diamond crown, with its jets falling upon one another.

George P. Rowell & Co., are the greatest and first Newspaper Advertising Agents in the United States. They erected a magnificent building on the Centennial grounds, the lower part of which contains all American Newspapers on exhibition, while the second floor is put at the disposal of the Centennial correspondents. The whole has been arranged so comfortably and practically, that, not only we Europeans, but even American correspondents who are more familiar with such things, are perfectly surprised.

On the first floor there is a table about thirty feet long, on which are laid the newspapers having the widest circulation, for the use of the correspondents and of the public. The newspapers of the different States are placed in pigeon-holes on both sides of the hall. The number of these reaches almost 8,500. Each pigeon-hole is provided with a label, stating the name of the State and the number of newspapers published in the same. An inscription over the entrance, "Come in and see a newspaper from home," tells every one who enters that any American newspaper is at his disposal. Eight clerks wait upon the public, and hand you in a few minutes the latest number of the newspaper which you may desire.

A glass shelf on the left hand side contains two of the most interesting articles on exhibition, viz.: two lists of the newspapers published in America, one in 1776 and the other in 1876. The first is a book in miniature, not larger than our pocket-book almanacs, and contains the list of the thirty-one newspapers published in 1776, their size, price, name of the editor and printer, which fill only sixteen pages. Near this pamphlet there is a thick gilt volume, "The American Newspaper Directory of 1876," a book in octavo, containing in the 1,032 pages the names of the 8,600 American newspapers published at the present time. These two products of the press, placed near each other, would alone be sufficient to show us the progress made by the "Young Country." No other country in the world shows such an immense increase of newspapers and such success in the line of public instruction. These alone ought to induce us to take off our hats before a nation which, no doubt, has a great future.

Four staircases, covered with carpets, lead to the second story, the 'Sanctuary' of the members of the Press, which is not usually open to the public, and strangers can pass these halls only as guests. This floor is built in the style of a gallery, so as to allow a free view of the lower floor. The upper floor may be divided into two large halls, at the ends of which there are four small neatly furnished rooms. The floor of the larger halls is covered with carpets, and here forty desks are placed, in four rows, so that forty correspondents can find accommodation at the same time.

Such is the building erected by Rowell & Co., and all its accommodations and advantages are accessible to all Members of the Press, without discrimination, whether they are Americans or foreigners.

[From the London Printing Times, November 15, 1876.]

AMERICAN JOURNALISM AND THE CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.

Our American cousins do everything on a "big" scale. Whatever they undertake, they seem to lay down their plans in proportions which astonish the more cautious, vacillating and tentative Englishman. Sometimes their projects result in success, sometimes in failure; but the failure or the success is always enormous. It is to the thorough, complete whole-hearted, enthusiastic nature of the American that he owes his wonderful progress. If he means to do a thing he "goes straight at it," to use his own phrase, and heeds very slightly the difficulties that are in the way, or the danger he runs of never accomplishing it. If he fails, therefore, he fails not for want of courage and directness; and if he wins, his success only serves him as the momentum to go at something more ambitious still.

Among the sights of the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia assuredly there was none more suggestive, more characteristic, or more instructive than the great "Newspaper Pavillion." It is a large temporary building, of elegant exterior, and furnished with suitable comfort within, containing files of all the journals published in the United States. The enormous task of collecting, classifying, arranging, and exhibiting these journals was undertaken by the firm who also erected the building and provided for its administration—Messrs. G. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, the largest advertising agency in the world.

Advertising is not a new practice among Englishmen, and there are those amongst us who have elevated it almost to the rank of a science. Nor are advertising agencies unknown here—agencies which relieve the advertiser of the labor of negotiating with each individual newspaper proprietor, and examining each individual journal to ascertain whether their announcements are inserted. Some of our advertising agencies here also issue newspaper directories, as the task of compiling such works is naturally best accomplished by those in daily communication with the sources of the information contained in them. Our oldest directory of this kind is Mitchell's, a small quarto of 200 pages; and the next in repute is May's, an octavo of some fifty pages less. Messrs. Rowell also publish a directory, and the Brobdignagian scale it is upon may be judged from the fact that it consists of 1,032 pages, in small type. It is well printed, hot-pressed throughout, and bound in cloth—altogether a handsome as well as useful book. The advertisements of the different journals alone make 730 pages! The book itself is published annually.

Messrs. Rowell are not content with giving the name, the politics, the date of establishment, and the intervals of publication of the different journals, but they give their size, and what is more, their circulation. We need not point out the value to advertisers of information of this kind, if it be only authentic. It is not possible, however, to obtain any complete official data upon the subject. The only mode of getting the desiderated particulars is by application to the respective newspaper proprietors. Here the difficulty begins. It is not likely that the owner of a moribund journal with a few hundred circulation will acknowledge the fact, and it is only reasonable that he will endeavor, in the absence of a respectable circulation, to assume or to claim one. It would never answer, therefore, to insert such statements, so Messrs. Rowell take the liberty to use their own discretion, and estimate in many cases, from their own experience or the representations of their correspondents, the extent of the circulation of different journals.

Returning, however, to the "Newspaper Pavilion," which, as already stated, owed its origin to the intelligence and the enterprise of this advertising agency, it may be remarked that such an opportunity of investigating the progress and the characteristics of Trans-Atlantic journalism was certainly never before presented; and it should not be allowed to pass by without being carefully utilized, not only by politicians, educators, and those who have to study the moral and religious condition of society, but by those who are interested in journalism as a profession, and to whom the causes which lead to newspaper prosperity and the tendencies which act adversely upon it, become matter of serious practical importance.

Messrs. Rowell & Co., have not only erected this fine building, and arranged and classified its contents, but they have issued a valuable annotated Catalogue of those contents, and one which contains word-sketches of many of the principal papers of the United States. To it are appended some pages of original remarks on newspapers furnished by the long experience of the firm itself. These latter are terse, acute, often highly suggestive, and deserving of being canvassed among all who, like ourselves, have to do with the press.

In conclusion, we may add the following particulars concerning the operations of Messrs. Rowell's agency. It was established only in 1865, yet it is said to control the largest amount of advertising patronage ever secured by any association of the kind. It receives more than one hundred and forty thousand different newspapers every three months, or more than seventeen hundred every day. Every one of these papers is carefully examined, the advertisements recorded, and then filed for the satisfaction of advertisers. A great number of clerks are engaged in these operations, yet all are performed with regularity and preciseness, so that a half-dollar announcement is as expeditiously and accurately published in one of the most remote territories as would be one which amounted to a thousand dollars. Such a concern is characteristic of the stupendous dimensions of the country in which it flourishes.

The New York Weekly Witness.

This journal, which commenced its eighth year on the 1st of January, combines the interest of the religious, temperance, and literary journal with that of the Newspaper at the lowest practicable price.

For all who buy and sell it offers most carefully prepared market reports of produce and live stock, and for the capitalist and banker a remarkably reliable report of stocks, bonds, gold, etc.

For the family it has a Home Department containing letters from ladies upon social and domestic subjects; also, one column of letters from children, which interests them greatly. This department is a specialty of rare value and interest in the WITNESS. There are also letters from all parts of the country upon various topics of general interest, a prominent one being the advantages of different regions for emigrants.

In the literary line it has a moral story and short stories for children; reviews of books and extracts from religious and literary journals, magazines, etc., etc. It has also a carefully selected agricultural department.

The religious and temperance elements are prominent in the WITNESS. It gives a first-rate commentary on the Sunday-school lesson for the Sabbath after next, a daily report of the Fulton Street prayer-meeting; occasional sermons by Moody, Spurgeon, Cook, Cuyler, and others; ecclesiastical and missionary news, and Daily Bread, with texts for every day of the coming week.

For the patriot and politician, the WITNESS gives three columns of extracts from the leading political papers of New York on the questions of the day, as well as about seven columns of editorial articles and notes.

For all, it has summaries of the news of the week, home and foreign items of interest, selections, clippings from cotemporaries, etc.

The WEEKLY WITNESS rose rapidly to a circulation of about 100,000, being the Largest of any Weekly Newspaper in the United States; but on account, we suppose, of the long-continued bad times, the circulation has diminished to about 63,000, a figure which, we hope, to see doubled with the return of good times.

The price is $1 50 per annum, or $1 for eight months, postage paid.

The WITNESS is not connected with any denomination, party or class, and we ask all who approve of a thoroughly evangelical, teetotal, and fearless newspaper, to aid us in extending its circulation among families.

The New York Daily Witness.

This is the Daily for the family, giving all important news, but excluding sensational details of crimes and scandals. It contains as good market reports for country produce, etc., as any daily in the city, and, perhaps, the best financial report of them all. The price is only $5 a year, including postage, or $1 for ten weeks (60 numbers). The ladies and children love the DAILY, for it has on its literary and miscellaneous page about a column of letters from them, which are sure to be first read.

SABBATH READING.

This is a handsome small eight-page paper, containing a selection of the choicest Religious and Temperance matter, including one first-class sermon, and some little stories for children, all appropriate for perusal on the Lord's Day. It has no advertisements, news, or editorials, and is suitable for all classes, denominations and parties, as good for the South as the North, for the West as the East. Fifty cents per annum, including postage.

All these papers stop when subscription expires, and any one remitting four full subscriptions for a year can have a copy gratis.

DAYTON.

Dayton, the county seat of Montgomery County, O., is universally conceded by visitors to be one of the most beautiful cities on the Continent. And its surroundings are equally attractive. It is notable for its broad, clean, smooth avenues, its uniformly comfortable and numerous elegant residences, its admirable public school system and school houses, its handsome church architecture, its numerous and large manufacturing establishments, and the general air of thrift and solid comfort which pervades the community. It is indisputably one of the most delightful of inland cities for a home, and as reliable for its established wealth and credit as any fortunate city in the Union. These are features which impress all strangers, and the well-contented people of Dayton are pardonable for the pride they take in their most enviable city. At the present time its population is estimated at 40,000. No less than forty macadamized pikes radiating from Dayton into a country unsurpassed in fertility or equalled in population in the West. The city is in fact the centre of the most dense population west of the Alleghanies. It is a fact not disputed, that more people can be concentrated at Dayton within a given period—and emptied out—than at any other point in the West, the metropolitan cities only excepted, by reason of exceptional railway facilities and density of surrounding population. Her wealth is solid and substantial, as readers may infer from its unusual distribution. For, by actual comparison of the County Auditor's tax books with the voting population, it is ascertained that while there are 7,800 voters in the city nearly 7,000 people own their own homesteads. Dayton trade is important. This is plain, when the immense outlying population she supplies is considered. Her wholesale trade is extensive, far reaching and rapidly increasing. Her dry goods, notions, and hardware jobbers are also important factors in her valuable economies, but her great source of wealth consists chiefly in her mechanic arts and general manufactures, which amount in round figures to about $17,000,000 per annum. They embrace almost everything in the catalogue of manufacturing art. Whiskey, malt liquor, tobacco, products of grain and linseed oil are among the large elements. Agricultural and other labor-saving machinery rank first in extent and volume.

THE DAYTON JOURNAL.

The DAYTON DAILY JOURNAL is the leading paper of the city and region round about. It descended from a variety of weekly ancestors, the original dating in 1807, so that it is now seventy-one years old. In 1840 Richard N. and W. F. Comly started the DAILY JOURNAL, being the first daily paper ever published in Dayton. For many years it was one of the most vigorous Whig organs in Ohio, and acquired a wide reputation. On the night of May 5, 1863, the office was totally destroyed by a mob to avenge the arrest of the late C. L. Vallandigham. On the 11th of May, Wm. D. Bickham, then war correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, bought the good will and subscription list of the concern—all that remained of it—and resurrected the paper, making a prosperous and influential newspaper of it. It has a weekly edition attached. Both have the largest circulation respectively in this valley. The JOURNAL is accredited by its Democratic opponents with being a vigorous Republican advocate, and its proprietor is satisfied with its popularity in general.

Careful attention is always given to the proper display of advertisements, and especial care is taken to fulfill all contracts as stipulated.

INSIST UPON HAVING the DAYTON JOURNAL when making up your lists, and don't let any inferior paper be palmed off on you in its stead.

The Leavenworth Times

—AHEAD!—

THE REPRESENTATIVE WESTERN NEWSPAPER.

A Statement showing the amount of Postage paid by the different daily newspapers in Kansas.

[From THE TIMES, Nov. 27, 1878.]

It is the plain duty of The Times to give the public, and particularly our advertising patrons, the facts concerning its circulation, in order that they may fully appreciate its value and importance as an advertising medium.

The surest way to obtain the exact circulation of the papers of Kansas outside of the counties in which they are published, is from the amount of postage paid by them to the Post Office Department.

Below we give the amount paid by The Times, taken from the post office receipts of this date.

The amount paid by other papers in Kansas is taken from the Atchison Champion, which claims to have the amount from official sources, and being published in its columns is evidence that it accepts it as correct so far as it is concerned.

The Times , Leavenworth, Kansas.....	$882 96
Champion, Atchison, Kansas.....	336 36
Commonwealth, Topeka, Kansas.....	302 12
Patriot, Atchison, Kansas.....	112 26
Blade, Topeka, Kansas.....	107 36
Public Press, Leavenworth, Kansas.....	102 00
Monitor, Fort Scott, Kansas.....	73 40

From the above it will be seen that The Times pays more than double the postage of any other daily paper in the State.

The Times pays more postage than any other two daily papers in the State.

The Times pays more postage than any other three daily papers in the State.

The Times pays more postage than any other four daily papers in the State.

The Times, after deducting the amount paid for postage by all the other daily papers in the State upon their exchange list, pays more postage upon its bona fide circulation than all the other daily papers in Kansas.

The Times has a circulation in the county of Leavenworth on which no postage is paid twenty times greater than any other paper in Kansas.

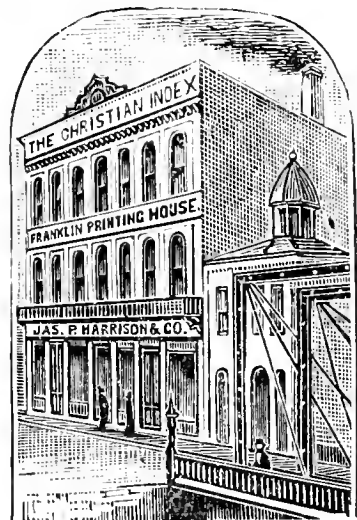

Advertisers everywhere recognize it as the best advertising medium in the West. There are some business men who have been represented in its columns for over twenty-one years continuously, which speaks volumes for the returns they have received. THE LEAVENWORTH TIMES is published in the largest city in the best State in the Union. It is the official paper of the city and county of Leavenworth. It is the only English morning paper published in Leavenworth. It is sold on the Union Pacific Railway, and the A. T. & S. F. R. R. and branches, by newsboys, and has an immense circulation in the great wheat belt of the Union. There is a constant tide of immigration pouring into Kansas, and the shrewd advertiser is aware that first impressions are generally the ones that last. The first thing the average settler does after building his house is to send $1 25 for THE LEAVENWORTH WEEKLY TIMES. The St. Louis Times-Journal calls THE LEAVENWORTH TIMES "The business and political barometer of Kansas." Daily, $8 per annum; Weekly, $1 25, &c. For advertising rates address

CIRCULATION CONSTANTLY INCREASING.

In view of the effect upon the circulation of most journals, produced by the stringency of the times during the past few years, the following exhibit as regards the Country Gentleman may be considered probably of a somewhat exceptional character, and it is quite curious to observe how well the increase that has occurred is scattered over nearly the whole area of the country :

Aggregate number of Post Offices.....	5206	5624	5999

According to the official list of March 1, 1878, there were 2,856 post-offices in this State, of which it will be seen above that the Country Gentleman regularly goes to 1,276, or over 44½ per cent. of the entire number. It must be remembered at how frequent intervals these post-offices are situated in most of the older States, and it will be seen how large and scattered an area our circulation covers. In Connecticut, we have on our list 45 per cent. of all the post-offices; in Massachusetts, about 38 per cent.; in New Jersey 33 per cent.; in both Rhode Island and Delaware, 40 per cent., and, taking the country at large, our aggregate amounts to nearly one in six of all the post-offices of the United States.

Advertising Fully Sustained.

As might be expected from the foregoing statement, the advertising patronage of the Country Gentleman has been fully sustained, without effort or solicitation on the part of the proprietors, from the voluntary action of its regular customers. The average annual amount of our advertising receipts for the six years, 1873-1878 inclusive, was LARGER THAN IN ANY PREVIOUS SIX YEARS in the history of this journal.

Mr. G. I. STEVENS, Secretary of the Averill Chemical Paint Co., New York, writes April 17th, 1878: "Of the ninety-six papers our advertisement has appeared in, two only, we believe, have given us results equal to the Country Gentleman."

ADVERTISING EXTRAORDINARY.—From a two weeks' advertisement in the Country Gentleman, I can trace directly 380 letters of inquiry, &c., extending from Maine to Arkansas, and from Canada to Georgia, and the selling of over $700 worth of goods. Aside from traveling agents, your paper has paid me better than all other mediums combined.

P. C. LEWIS, Catskill, N. Y., Oct. 26, 1878.

Home and Farm,

LOUISVILLE, KY., 1879.

The HOME AND FARM for 1879 will be an eight page paper, and contain forty-eight columns of solid reading matter. Its lessons upon farm culture and home management we shall strive to make the best and most practical in our power; in short, our aim is, and shall be, to give to the farmer the best and cheapest agricultural paper in the world. Aside from treatises on Agriculture, Horticulture, and Floriculture, we will give a summary of the general news, both home and foreign, but nothing partisan either in religion or politics will be admitted into our columns, as our mission is "peace and good will to all men." "Our Farm" and "Our Home" will each have our particular consideration, and we shall try to make both these departments of the highest interest to our readers, so that the field and fireside may both be benefited alike by our semi-monthly visits. We will give especial interest to our market reports, and as these reports will be confined almost exclusively to the staple products, it will be our aim and pleasure always to advise the farmer as to what we consider to be his best interest. Believing most implicitly in the old adage, that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," we shall continue to give to the fun-loving portion of our readers something in each paper suited to their tastes, so that all who read our pages may enjoy not only a "feast of reason, but also a flow of soul." We have fixed our subscription price at a rate so low that it barely covers the cost of the blank paper; hence there can be none so poor that they cannot take it. We close our second year with a subscription list of fifty thousand, and our aim is for one hundred thousand at the close of the third year. These figures to some may seem enormous, but they are not beyond our reach, if determined effort is made by our friends.

Clubs of fifty to one hundred can be made up in almost every school district, and one-fourth of this number will swell our subscription list far above the figures named.

In making up clubs for 1879, names may be sent at any time, and the paper will be forwarded to each subscriber at once.

Names sent by the getter-up of a club will be credited to him, whether they are all from the same post-office or not; and all who get up clubs are entitled to, and will receive, the premiums offered, as per schedule, published in each number of our paper.

Situated in the heart of the great precious metal producing region of the Continent, its mining news is copied in the leading journals of the Old World, and is regarded as authority on this leading industry of the Pacific Slope.

Its circulation is general, being greater than that of any journal between San Francisco and Chicago, and it is read in every mining camp and every hamlet in the vast region of the Pacific.

The Tribune is Anti-Mormon, free and outspoken in its sentiments, and, by reason of its independence, is read alike by Gentiles and Mormons throughout Utah.

THE BALTIMORE DAILY NEWS.

The daily circulation of the NEWS far exceeds that of any other paper in the States south of Mason & Dixon's line, with one single exception.

The NEWS has the fastest and most modern and complete machinery in the Southern States, being the only paper south of Philadelphia printed from stereotype plates, on the same style of perfecting presses that are used by the New York Herald, New York Sun, &c., feeding themselves with lightning speed, from continuous rolls of paper, and printing both sides at the same time.

Circulation in the city larger than that of all the other papers combined, with a single exception.

The Best Advertising Medium in Colorado

FOR BUSINESS MEN.

A PAPER OF VIM, VINEGAR, VITRIOL AND ENTERPRISE.

CIRCULATES AMONG MINERS AND STOCK MEN.

We can, without fear of contradiction, pronounce the Daily Chieftain the best conducted and ablest edited daily newspaper in Colorado. We write advisedly and from an intelligent standpoint. If the people of Pueblo do not most liberally sustain their first-class daily they ought to be ashamed of themselves. However, we have every reason to believe that this people will amply reward Messrs. Lambert & Co. for their journalistic enterprise.—Huerfano (Colorado) Independent, January 28, 1876.

The Colorado Chieftain, published at Pueblo, Colorado, is a credit to that city. It is what it pretends to be, "a paper full of vim, vinegar, vitriol and enterprise." It greets us every morning with telegraphic reports up to date, and is par excellence the best paper in Southern Colorado.—Correspondence Syracuse (New York) Journal, January 15, 1876.

We have just received a copy of the Daily Chieftain, published at Pueblo, Colorado. It is a live paper, containing the latest and most reliable information in regard to climate, soil, stock raising, mining, summer resorts, and all features peculiar to Colorado.—Charleston (Ind.) Herald, May 20, 1876.

The Colorado Chieftain is a bright, live, newsy paper, full of mining and other news, and the copy before us gives a map of the San Juan silver districts which are now being so generally discussed by speculators and diggers.—Clinton (Penn.) Republican May 18, 1876.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The DAILY NEWS has the largest circulation of any daily published in the United States. The price charged for advertisements in the Daily News is not more, and in some cases it is less, than the price charged by journals which have not more than half or even one-third the circulation of the News. Advertisements inserted in all three editions without extra charge.

The DAILY NEWS is now the Cheapest Advertising Medium in existence.

The WEEKLY NEWS has a large circulation in every section of the country. Merchants, manufacturers, patent-medicine dealers, and all classes of business men, will find its columns a very valuable medium to advertise in.

The SUNDAY NEWS has a large circulation throughout the city, and along the lines of the railroads leading from the city. Advertisements inserted on liberal terms—at lower rates than in any other Sunday paper published, when circulation is taken into consideration.

DIE TAGES-NACHRICHTEN has the largest circulation of any German daily newspaper published in the world.

DIE SONNTAGS-NACHRICHTEN has the largest circulation in the city of any German Sunday paper issued.

All classes of merchants and dealers who are seeking for German trade will find advertisements in the columns of the Tages and Sonntags-Nachrichten reach a larger number of readers than they would by any other channel.

This influential and widely-celebrated journal is published weekly at Montpelier, the Capital of Vermont. It has long held position as one of the conspicuous and exceptionally powerful newspapers of New England. Its ability and merits as a publication have won for it a circulation which is nearly double that of any other newspaper issued in the State, and it is read by a much larger number of persons, in proportion to its circulation, than any other. It is sought and read by those who are hostile to its sentiments as well as those who are its friends. It is pre-eminent in the extent and variety of its local news. It is fearless in considering and treating all subjects, candid in the expression of its opinions, and is a recognized power in Vermont, notwithstanding that it is an independently Democratic journal in a strongly Republican State.

THE MIRROR

MANCHESTER, N. H.

The Manchester DAILY MIRROR was founded in 1850, and the WEEKLY MIRROR in 1851, by Joseph C. Emerson. In October, 1852, both papers were purchased by John B. Clarke, who has owned, edited, and published them ever since. As the MIRROR grew in strength and influence its owner purchased and his establishment absorbed the Daily American, the Weekly American and the New Hampshire Journal of Agriculture, all of which are now comprised and published under the MIRROR headings. The MIRROR AND AMERICAN and the WEEKLY MIRROR AND FARMER are the most successful journals in New Hampshire. From the start money has been spent upon them with a free hand in every department, which with liberal dealings with friends and patrons, has put them far in advance of all rivals, and given them a circulation, influence and advertising patronage which no other even claims.

Manchester, New Hampshire, is the fifty-fifth city in population in the United States, according to the last census—larger than any two cities in New Hampshire. It is fifty-two miles from Boston, and is devoted to manufacturing. Its corporations employ nine thousand persons, and have a monthly pay-roll of THREE HUNDRED AND ELEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS. They use every year twenty-six thousand and one hundred tons of coal, eight thousand cords of wood, and about thirty million feet of gas. The mills have about three hundred thousand spindles, and make one hundred and forty-three miles of cloth a day. The Manchester Locomotive Works can turn out fourteen locomotives a month, and the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company fifty steam fire-engines a year.

To make a paper worthy of such a city, and one which should find its way into nearly every family, and be authorized to speak for and to the substantial and intelligent citizens, has been the aim of the publisher of the MIRROR, and that he has succeeded the subscription books and daily sales of the paper fully prove. The DAILY MIRROR AND AMERICAN is an evening paper, issuing three editions each afternoon, and has a larger circulation than any other two dailies in the State.

The WEEKLY MIRROR AND FARMER is an eight-page sheet, of forty-eight columns, and is a general news and agricultural paper. Its first and second pages are devoted to farming interests, and are filled with live and readable matter, which gives it a welcome, and makes it authority in a large proportion of the farm-houses of New Hampshire and Vermont.

The other six pages are devoted to news, editorials, selections, and advertisements, so written and arranged as to give timely and bold expression to the convictions and opinions of honest people, and to present a complete and reliable record of the world's work, wisdom, worry, and wickedness during each week.

The paper owns no man as master, and is the slave of no sect or party. It speaks for its readers openly, freely, and without fear or favor. Its system of news gathering is nearly complete, and in the department of State news, particularly, its numerous correspondents and reporters, and a free use of the telegraph, enable it to keep far in advance of its rivals. These features have introduced the MIRROR, and make it a household word among all who are interested in New Hampshire news and have a liking for an independent and outspoken organ of public opinion.

It reaches, in large clubs, nearly every town in the State, and many in Vermont and Maine, and has not only an aggregate circulation larger than any other paper in the State, but larger than any other one of its class published in New England, out of Boston. Its circulation is a natural and healthy one. It employs no agents to crowd it into places where it is not welcome, and is not sent to any man who has not paid for it. Its friends are such of their own volition, because it meets their wants and approves itself to their judgment; and they are friends who, when once they come, are sure to stay. The MIRROR is by far the best advertising medium to be found in New Hampshire. Its rates are less than three-fourths of a cent a line for each thousand circulation.

HOW IT PAYS.

"We are pleased to say that, having used THE FLORAL CABINET in connection with nearly all the leading papers in the country, there were only six from which our advertisement brought more responses than THE CABINET, and in proportion to the cost we received double the number from THE CABINET than from either one of the six."

Very truly yours,

PERRY MASON & CO.

"THE CABINET has paid us better this spring (1877) than any other medium, with but one exception."

PETER HENDERSON & CO.

"There is no other publication bringing us in half the returns for the money invested compared to THE CABINET. You may make any use of the above you please, as it is but simply justice to your circulation and prices."

THE
CATHOLIC WORLD

A Monthly Magazine of General Literature and Science.

EDITED BY

REV. I. T. HECKER, AND PUBLISHED WITH THE APPROBATION OF HIS EMINENCE, THE CARDINAL ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

THE CATHOLIC WORLD contains original articles from the best Catholic writers at home and abroad, as well as translations from the periodicals of France, Germany, Belgium, Italy, and Spain. Its readers are thus put in possession of the choicest literary productions in a cheap and convenient form.

THE CATHOLIC WORLD is a large double-column magazine of 144 pages, making two large volumes, or 1728 pages, each year, and is furnished to subscribers for

FIVE DOLLARS A YEAR,

Invariably in advance. Single copies 50 cents. There are twenty-seven volumes already published, and handsomely bound in plain cloth, per volume, $3 50; half morroco, $5; or in separate numbers, 50 cents each.

Courrier de St. Hyacinthe

TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

I beg leave to present the following reasons why it will be to the advantage of all classes of business men to

Advertise in the Columns of the Courier.

I.—It is now in the twenty-sixth year of its existence, one of the oldest established papers in the Dominion of Canada, and in consideration of its standing and prominence, has been chosen as an Official Paper by the Government for the publication of the Laws and all official advertisements generally.

II.—It has a circulation in every county in the Dominion and a large circulation outside.

III.—Its circulation is confessedly larger than that of any other newspaper published in this section of the Province of Quebec.

IV.—Intelligent advertisers will take into account the fact that the COURRIER is one of the chief organs of the Conservative Party, which is, according to the last elections, largely in majority in the country.

Circulation good and daily increasing; patronized by all leading merchants; read by all farmers, clergymen, and business men; the best advertising medium; rates liberal; has all the current foreign, domestic and local news of the day.

The weekly edition is also known under the name COURRIER DE ST. HYACINTHE AND JOURNAL D'AGRICULTURE. It devotes a large space to agricultural matters, and circulates extensively among farmers.

Courrier de St. Hyacinthe, tri-weekly.....$3.

Journal d'Agriculture, weekly.....$1.

United States advertisements must be pre-paid, unless sent through Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Agency.

The establishment has been newly fitted up with new presses and printing materials, and we have abundant facilities to make jobs of all kinds--from the largest poster to the smallest card. Orders solicited.

Send for specimen copies. Address

A SPLENDID FIELD FOR ADVERTISERS.

Facts speak stronger than fiction. This is evinced by the patronage of the most extensive advertisers in the United States, many of whom certify not only in words to the large per centage paid on investments made with and for the ENQUIRER-SUN, but show it and their appreciation by renewing their contracts for the year to come.

Columbus, Georgia, the head of navigation, on the Chattahoochee river, 350 miles from the Gulf. Is the largest cotton manufacturing city in the South, and has a large trade from Georgia, Alabama and Florida, where the ENQUIRER-SUN has a larger circulation than any other paper. The SUNDAY is taken in nearly every family of our Factory population.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN THE INTERIOR OF THE STATE.

Augusta County has a thrifty Agricultural and Manufacturing population of upwards of 30,000, and the lands are very fertile and productive, and is by far the most populous and wealthy section of the great Valley of Virginia.

Staunton is the county seat of Augusta, with a population of upwards of 6,000, and a very large adjacent population not now embraced within the city limits. It is noted for its fine Female Colleges of very high grade, which are attended by about 500 young ladies from Southern, Northern and Western States, the graded Public Schools, and other male and female schools of high grade. It is also the seat of two of the principal State Institutions—the Western Lunatic Asylum and the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind—two National Banks doing a business of over $1,000,000, Iron Foundries, Machine Shops, Door, Sash and Blind Factories, etc. The city has also recently erected fine Water Works at a cost of about $100,000. The Valley Railroad, a branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway intersects the Chesapeake and Ohio Grand Through Line at this point.

Travelers and Pleasure-Seekers will find Staunton a most delightful place to spend the summer months, as the climate is bracing and healthful, and the scenery and surroundings picturesque and beautiful.

The SPECTATOR was the first paper established at this place nearly a century ago, and it is now in its 55th volume under its present title. Its list of subscribers is larger than that of any other paper west of the Blue Ridge, and is, therefore, the best advertising medium in the Valley of Virginia, or in West Virginia.

Merchants, Tradesmen and Others wishing to call the attention of the public to their business will promote their interests by adopting the SPECTATOR as the medium of communication. Address

A NATIONAL RELIGIOUS NEWSPAPER AND A FIRST CLASS ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

THE METHODIST

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

NO. 15 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK.

THE METHODIST takes rank with the first religious journals of the country in character influence, and circulation; it represents the progressive and intelligent element of the largest Christian denomination in the United States—a church numbering some 10,000 regular ministers and nearly a million and a half of members. It reaches the leading men of the denomination in all the great centres, and in the towns and villages of the country, and finds its way to the reading rooms of their public libraries and Young Men's Christian Associations, where it is read weekly by many thousands.

THE METHODIST is the only journal in the Methodist Episcopal Church which has a truly national circulation. The advertisements inserted in its columns are of the most respectable kind. We invite your attention to our liberal advertising rates.

THE GREAT ADVERTISING MEDIUM OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Republican Press Association,

CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE,

— PUBLISH —

THE CONCORD DAILY MONITOR,

Established in 1864;

AND THE

Independent Statesman,

Established in 1828.

Circulation of the "Statesman" Between 9,000 and 10,000.

POLITICS—REPUBLICAN. POSITION—CENTRAL. ITS FIELD—THE WHOLE STATE.

This Corporation publishes THE ONLY DAILY at the capital. It is a 6-column, 4-page paper; length of columns, 21 inches; two editions daily, at 3 and 5 o'clock, P. M. The 3 o'clock edition covers all the Northern and Southern bound afternoon trains, in one great chain of railroad connections. During the session of the Legislature a large morning edition is printed and sent broadcast throughout the State.

THE INDEPENDENT STATESMAN (weekly), is a 6-column, 8-page paper; length of columns, 21 inches; size of paper 31x46. This is the Great Paper of New Hampshire; and it probably does more to shape public opinion than all the other republican papers of the State combined. It has the Largest Circulation of any purely political paper in this portion of New England and while, during the great business depression of the last five years, other papers have fallen off in circulation, become crippled, and many have become extinct, this establishment, from its central location and wide field, has not only maintained itself, but has steadily gained in favor and in strength. The above facts are submitted, in brief, to show the business public that this is

Select List

OF

Local Newspapers.

---

Many persons suppose this list to be composed of CHEAP, low-priced newspapers.

The fact is quite otherwise.

The Catalogue states exactly what the papers are.

When the name of a paper is printed in FULL FACE TYPE it is in every instance the BEST paper in the place.

When printed in CAPITALS it is the ONLY paper in the place.

When printed in roman letter it is neither the best nor the only paper, but is usually a very good one, notwithstanding.

The list gives the population of every town and the circulation of every paper.

IT IS NOT A CO-OPERATIVE LIST.

IT IS NOT A CHEAP LIST.

At the foot of the Catalogue for each State the important towns which are not covered by the list are enumerated.

IT IS AN HONEST LIST.

The rates charged for advertising are no more than one-half the publishers' schedule.
